Washington Believes Fight Just Beginning the Relative Strength of General Huerta and His Foes.

OUTCOME TO INFLUENCE POLICY OF UNITED STATES

No Definite Information as to Why Huerta Sent Rojas to Vera Cruz to Confer With John Lind.

Washington, March 21.—The battle of Torreon will be the turning point of the Mexican revolution, in the opinion of high administrative officials. Little official information today as to the preliminary skirmishes was at hand, but it is believed that within a few days a battle will have been fought which will indicate clearly the relative strength of the constitutionalist cause and the Huerta government.

The outcome is expected to influence the American policy to a considerable extent.

Officials did not comment themselves.

The Washington government is willing to listen to any new peace plan, but as yet definite information is lacking as to what General Huerta's objectives may have been in sending the cabinet officer. See Mr. Lind.

The presence in Vera Cruz at the time of Charge O'Shaughnessy and Charge Hohler, of the United States embassy and British legation, respectively, in official circles here is taken Discussion among constitutionalists here of the possibility that General Huerta would retire in favor of Senor Portillo developed the probability that he would not be acceptable to the constitutionalists because of his affiliations with the clerical party.

Mr. O'Shaghnessy expects to return to Mexico City in a few days, according to his dispatches to the state department. His telegrams make mention of his ill-health, but there is

Because it gives the idealized natural lines to the figure—and it is this physique which women have been striving to attain ever since it was decreed by Fashion, nearly two years ago.

This corset is very short above the waist, line and very long below—extending almost to the knees. Nevertheless, it does not push up when one sits down, for its steels support the abdomen and keep the corset in place.

This corset is inset with wide bands of Lastings Cloth across the hips in the back—these bands make it possible for the corset to curve with the figure when one sits down—and at the same time they act as an automatic massage for reducing the flesh.

The Chic Spring Hat.

Hats that Show the Trend of Spring Millinery

FRENCH blue taffeta caps the crown of the white chip hat in the upper left sketch and is also used for the smart spreading bow placed directly on top. The brim is faced with black taffeta.

The black chip hat opposite with its wide flaring side brim has a single rose cluster of smaller ones in deep shades of rose color as its only trimming.

The brim of the blue milan straw hat in the center of the page stops in front just when it reaches the face, but sweeps upward in the back where an ostrich plume is so arranged to give even greater height. A band of black velvet crosses the crown and disappears in a small bunch of pink flowers on the side.

A smart little bow perched on the end of a piece of wired taffeta ribbon is arranged at the back of the red milan hat in the lower left sketch. The crown is entirely of the taffeta shirred.

White taffeta ribbon cleverly plaited supplies the needed height to the panama hat in the lower right sketch. Though tall in back it diminishes till in front and around the opposite side only a fraction of an inch appears beyond the edge of the brim.

The Corset Nature's First Assistant to Good Figures

"Mariette Thoughts"

"Mariette Thoughts" produced tangible Mariette responses. Our earnest advocacy, coupled with the intrinsic merit of Mariette Corsets, appeals to the wearer.

Were we asked to succinctly state why we concentrate our corset efforts on Mariette Corsets we would simply say "Distinction and Distinctiveness."

European originality, coupled with American ingenuity, stood at the cradle of Mariette Corsets and they now are synonymous with Corset Perfection.

Proper corseting satisfies the wearer and pleases the beholder. The corset is the most necessary adjunct in dress. It is Nature's first assistance from a symmetrical as well as healthful point of view. It gives you compactness, security, grace and support.

A well-poised corset produces the snug feeling of a perfect fitting glove or shoe. All other garments radiate from the corset, and this is why we feature

The Spring Season Has Opened at ALLEN'S

Every new spring has its first attraction in the striking innovations of dress. Lent gives us opportunity to study these to our heart's content.

The Allen Ready-to-Wear Departments Offer highest examples of everything that is new and of confirmed good style—and when it is new. Every day brings us something new—almost instantaneous with its New York production. Whatever the day brings, the certain thing is that it stands first in the style it represents.

Very gratifying is the commendation we are daily receiving regarding the extensive smart styles, the excellent qualities, the artistic effects and, above all, the remarkable values provided in

Our Dress Department

Not alone the spring silk attractions in taffeta and crepe, but very many advanced summer styles. Black is to be popular for summer, as the developments would indicate, these being net, lace and chiffon, in combination with taffeta or crepe de chine.

The Dress of Many Frills

Is a striking illustration, being a succession of frills of net or chiffon, gathered or accordion pleated, from belt to hem, and having a blouse quite as fluffy as appropriate finish to this beautifully daring costume.

Other striking things for summer are cotton crepes of white and those embroidered in far apart patches of color—quaint and difficult to tell about, so odd and pretty is the effect.

$35, $40, $45, $50, $65 and up to $85

Spring Dresses of Small Expense

The spring dresses of present need and small expense are shown here in most attractive designs, fluffy beruffled models, or with tunics and puffs, in taffeta, crepe de chine and pussy willow, plain or figured, street and evening styles.

$17.75 and $19.75

The New Polo Coats

The White Polo Coat is the jaunty, smart wear at the country clubs, and all outdoor sports. We show the newest spring models with Raglan shoulders and belts, a touch of brilliant color peeping from the linings of collar and cuffs.

New Butterfly Model

Wearing you an agreeable surprise is showing you our latest suit arrivals—those at $25. Developed in the new butterfly effect in black and white checks, with black moire or taffeta trimmings, these suits are marvels of art.

Again it is seen in blue gabardine, in blue and black serge—a really wonderful display of style. See these while they are here.

Lumber mills supplying railroad construction will have a congestion of orders.

Car factories and the car wheel foundries will have to enlarge to meet the demand.

Locomotive works will exceed the production that made 1906 phenomenal.

Mechanical works, mechanical appliance factories, railroad car bodies, every line bearing on the construction, operation or maintenance of railroads will experience the banner period of its existence.

Speak of the "unemployed!"

This industrial revival will be on as mammoth a scale as to muster into industrial service the greatest army of workers this country has ever seen.

So great, so all-pervading will it be as to mobilize under the flag of prosperity the mightiest industrial force of the world's history.

Here are a few collateral effects:

Banking and financial activities the country over will at once feel the touch of this new rush for business.

That means general financial and commercial health.

Great as will be the direct influence of the expenditure of this vast sum, the collateral effect will be felt by every line of business in the country.

Every laborer that handles a pick or shovel, or mass steam machinery, or swings a hammer or directs a riveter—

Every engineer who runs a line or handles a rod—

Every man that puddles a pie of iron—

Every draughtsman that draws a blue print—

Every architect that designs a station—

Every man in the mill or the foundry—

Every man that twists a throttle or helps run a train or handles a key—

Every man of the myriad host that have to do with railroad construction, maintenance and operation in this country—

MUST, WITH THOSE DEPENDENT UPON HIM, BE CLOTHED, FED, AMUSED, INSURED, HOUSED!

This means a revival to unprecedented proportions of the wholesale and retail business; of clothing factories; of coal mine activity; of structural building; of insurance activity; of real estate activity; of amusement activity; of every other line of commercial or industrial pursuit.

Where one man is now at work there will then be many; where a hundred, perhaps a thousand.

It will mean America the busiest season this country has ever known.

In the light of this reasoning, is the average longer drowsy as to his stake in this revival of prosperity? The question answers itself.

Upon what is the fulfillment of this actual vision awaiting—

SIMPLY UPON THE INSPIRATION OF THE MAGIC WORD THAT GOVERNMENT AND RAILROAD HAVE SIGNED TRUCE.

THE ONE DEMANDING THE OTHER ACCEPTING. AN HONEST COURSE OF CONDUCT, PROTECTION FROM DEMAGOGY, A JUST RETURN UPON INVESTMENT, THAT PUBLIC AND RAILROAD HAVE SIGNED TRUCE, OLD HOSTILITY BURIED WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT THE RAILROAD SHALL PERFORM NO MORE FEATS IN HIGH FINANCE TO JUSTIFY VIOLENCE OR HOSTILITY; THAT EVERY DOLLAR AUTHORIZED TO BE SPENT IS TO BE SPENT AS IT IS AUTHORIZED.

With the signing of this pact, capital will loosen the purse-strings; one billion dollars and more will be forthcoming; the country will enter into its greatest period of prosperity, based upon legitimate expansion and not wild speculation or expansion.

The quicker the pact is signed, the better. Delay only damages!

THE TREATY OF INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PEACE OF 1914 WILL MEAN MORE TO THE POCKET OF THE AVERAGE MAN THAN ANY GOVERNMENT OR BUSINESS ACTION TAKEN SINCE THE STARS AND STRIPES WERE PLUNGED TO THE BREEZE.

The country is awaiting the magic word!

A CALL TO MUSICAL ATLANTA.

A committee from the Atlanta Musical association, of which Mrs. John M. Slaton is the president, will this week visit on representative Atlanta to ascertain their attitude with regard to the continuation of the notable work of the Atlanta Philharmonic orchestra. For the past two seasons the orchestra has been enthusiastic and growing in volume. But the question of financing the orchestra has been from the start a precarious one, and this gulfing spirit of the association feel that unless the people of Atlanta manifest a substantial interest in the project, they are not justified in continuing to believe themselves fitted to hold down the job.

It may be that some day Mr. Taft will be lured back into politics. We hope not. For he is too broad and ingenious a spirit to be spoiled by the intrigues of a selfish at its finest. But at least, he will have the satisfaction of knowing that as a private citizen he set a stiff pace for common sense, for courage and for ideals of public service far from self-seeking.

everywhere willing to go down in their pockets to sustain an enterprise of this nature, for its educational value alone, not to mention its spiritual contribution to the community's life.

The symphony concerts in Atlanta have been given under increasing difficulties. No amount of economy in the matter of the orchestra or in the matter of imported artists, and this is the sort of skimping that hurts music, has prevented liberal calls upon the sympathies. The members of the association believe that a call that supports grand opera and other high forms of art so liberally as Atlanta has in it the willingness to support a symphony orchestra, their needs are the city with the foremost musical centers of the country. But they are unwilling to continue to prosecute their task against obstacles unless an abundant spirit of co-operation is manifested.

The Constitution believes with the association that Atlanta wants and will support an artistic enterprise of this magnitude. All that is needed is to have the matter presented with the proper emphasis to the music lovers of this city. The response this week to members of the committee should be such as not only to insure the concert for the immediate future, but to place the orchestra upon a permanent basis.

A SOUTHERN NATIONAL PARK.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, through its executive committee, has joined other southern commercial bodies in petitioning congress for a national park in the southern Appalachian region would be highly appropriate.

From the national health point of view, not to mention patriotism and the duty of a government to provide wholesome relaxation to its citizens, a national park in the southern Appalachian region would be highly appropriate.

The west is notable for the great reservations set aside by the national government, and the south is virtually devoid of such resources.

In the mountainous regions of the south, especially in North Carolina, Georgia, splendid locations offer for such a park, and one of the best features is that such a place could be made easily accessible to all of America east of the Mississippi river.

In Blue Ridge Georgia are scenery and altitudes and general topographical attractions found nowhere outside of Switzerland, and not easily surpassed even there.

As conditions now exist, land can be purchased in this section at a price that is relatively nominal. Enough can be secured to make possible parks that, in acreage, at least, will compare favorably with Yosemite and Yellowstone.

Ten, or even five, years from now it is very likely that these sites will be available, except at almost extortionate prices. If the government is going to establish national parks on this side of the continental divide, the time for it to get busy is now, and not later.

If land were bought in the southern Appalachians, and a fraction of the amount spent on its improvement as on the improvement of parks toward the far west, it is a certainty that the visitors to the southern parks, speaking comparatively, would enjoy these going west.

The patriotic motive should be sufficient to set in motion the necessary southern commercial and political influences. And if the patriotic motive is not sufficient, the side is attractive enough.

TAFT KEEPS PERSPECTIVE.

Former President Taft gains in sanity and perspective with the passage of the months since he returned to private life. For instance, his recent designation as the president of Delaware college at Wilmington. Mr. Taft is now a member of the faculty of Yale, but it may well be thought that the change of the presidency of a college might have some inducements to a man of his high ambitions for service.

But when he received the offer, he very promptly sent a reply, which read that "I am quite content with my position in New Haven and I could not accept the presidency of any university or college for two reasons: first, because I am not fitted for it, and second, because I have other work in which I believe I can do more good."

How many former presidents of the United States do we find confessing that they are not "fitted" for any distinction that may offer?

The common sense and the clear perspective of Taft come as a welcome relief. He seems to have found his way. He is willing to admit that other fields may test his equipment to the breaking point, but that is another matter, the point, he does not hesitate to say so.

Mr. Taft as president was a poor politician. He was betrayed by such counselors as Wickersham, Hitchcock, et al. He lacked in daring and he had a glaring weakness when it came to sensing public sentiment.

As a private citizen, Mr. Taft is quite another and a more commanding personality. He sacrifices notions of dignity, but he also keeps his idea of the value of a private citizen he set a stiff pace for common sense, for courage and for ideals of public service far from self-seeking.

POUR LA COIFFURE

Newest Designs in Combs and Pins

Excessive elaboration is the keynote of the most of the new designs in combs, pins, barrettes and other coiffure ornaments that have arrived from Paris. There are pins of every shape and size, with waved prongs and plain prongs and tops in oval, circular, horse-shoe, T-shape and irregular openwork design, made of jet, tortoise shell, amber and a new transparent composition.

The new combs, like the pins, are of infinite variety, in both design and material, and are frequently heavily jeweled and covered with gold and silver filigree. The high Spanish comb shown in the upper left-hand corner will be a great favorite. This one is of amber, decorated with rose-gold and coral.

Barrettes and Headdresses of the Latest

The new forms of barrettes are made in lace effects, in metal and shell, set with rhinestones. The one in the lower sketch is connected with a bandeau of tiny laurel leaves.

The headdresses for the evening still show the influence of the Orient. There are folded turban bandeaux, covered with gold and studded with pearls. The wonderful cap in the center is adapted from the Persian by Poiret. It is made of wired gold tissue, studded with seed-pearls and emeralds, the long hanging side ornaments are of rose-gold. The pearl band in the right-hand corner is also Oriental in design, having the great round ear-caps of pearls, finished with pearl tassels.

Simplicity the Keynote of Charming Coiffures

Fashion decrees that the coiffure itself shall, once more, be worn high. But even when it is most elaborate of construction, it preserves simplicity and grace in the general lines. It is nearly always done in a loose, natural wave and drooped low over the forehead and ears; but the line from the nape of the neck to the crown is distinctly shown, and indeed is often accentuated by the use of high Spanish combs and barrettes. This fashion is dignified and becoming to most women. Where the forehead is naturally high, little bangs or love-locks are very attractive. Among the freak suggestions from Paris are locks dyed to match the costume, but it is not likely that such a fad will meet the approval of the well-dressed American.

We Are Twenty-Seven Years Old Today

¶ The house of Maier & Berkele, Inc., was founded in 1887.

¶ This is the oldest jewelry house of continuous existence in Atlanta. It is the biggest, having grown from a small partnership to a corporation with a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $69,000.

The Business has produced its own capital for every increase, and Atlanta produced the original investment.

¶ This is an Atlanta institution in every sense of the word. Its officers and directors are:

H. A. Maier, President

Frederic J. Paxon, Vice-President

J. T. Fleming, Secretary and Treasurer

Asa G. Candler

Robert J. Lowry

W. J. Davis

John E. Murphy

Robert Stahl

Hubert W. Anderson

¶ The president, who is also the managing director, is a native of Atlanta. He was born at the corner of Alabama and Forsyth streets June 2, 1864, while the cannon were booming at the Battle of Kennesaw Mountain. He is a practical jeweler, having learned his trade at the bench of J. P. Stevens. He is a diamond buyer of rare skill and judgment. Some of the heads of departments have been with Mr. Maier through the entire twenty-seven years.

"SO THAT" a child can buy as safely here as the shrewdest trader—

¶ These words spell confidence.

¶ Upon confidence—the confidence of Atlanta and the South—is built this institution. To promote public confidence in us is our hope of future growth.

¶ Contemplating our success we attribute it to a number of causes, all arising from these two fundamentals:

One Price to All People;

One Rule of Fairness to All Officers and Employees of the Company.

¶ Each of these invariable rules underlies and vitalizes the policy of this house, that—

Business efficiency and public convenience are best served by a firm so organized and equipped that, automatically, it secures the best goods at lowest cost, adds a fair profit and distributes purchases most promptly, courteously and neatly to the public at large.

THE House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., is a permanent stronghold of business integrity and efficiency—efficiency to secure for its supporting public the world's best jewelry stocks at the fairest prices. Every member of our buying and selling organization contributes to efficiency, trains an assistant to continue his work, cuts out lost motion wherever found and seeks to maintain the firm as an institution in the public service, regardless of the life of any individual.

¶ The efficiency of Maier & Berkele, Inc., in buying and selling jewelry has been increased greatly by the profit-sharing plan established some years ago, the first, we believe, in Atlanta. The organization became more compact and more thorough. An immediate stimulus was felt throughout. We believe this feeling on the part of employees, that the business belongs in part to them, has caused them to study more carefully the wishes of our customers and to seek more thorough knowledge of the merits and quality of goods under their charge. The confidence our employees have in the house is of vital consequence to our customers.

ON THIS, our twenty-seventh anniversary, we thank the people of Atlanta and the South for a fifty per cent increase every year in our mail order department and for the patronage that has increased our retail jewelry trade in this city.

¶ Increased business demands more room, to gain which we are discontinuing our art goods departments and giving over the space and energies to an extension of the jewelry departments.

¶ We are remodeling one store and ask you to watch the progress of our alterations. Come in and visit the departments untouched by the workmen. You need not feel under any obligations to buy. We have here an exposition of rare wares from all over the world and we want you to see them. We will sell them in due time—there's no need to hurry about that—and their value never depreciates; so you should have no hesitancy about "just visiting and looking around."

¶ When the manufacturing departments are moved to give greater efficiency; when the salesrooms are enlarged and beautified for the better display of exhibits, we will have a special visiting day which will be announced later. At present, come at your convenience, look to suit your pleasure and stay as long as you like.

¶ Next week the House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., will have its annual family dinner, when officers and employees, though they meet in business conference every morning and discuss plans for the day, will relax for a time and celebrate the completion of twenty-seven years of successful business.

¶ The House of Maier & Berkele, Inc., bids you welcome to its displays throughout the twenty-eighth year.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly prepared, brings back the natural color and texture to the hair which has become thin and falling hair. Years ago the only way to get the hair to grow again was to use the old recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays, we simply ask for any drug store, and they will give us the old recipe for about 50 cents. But the old recipe is the only one that will make it to grow again, which is the only way to get the hair to grow again.

The Dix Guarantee on Diamonds

Is based upon the soundest business principles, and the fact that there is no such thing as a second-hand diamond, and that diamonds are recognized collateral anywhere in the civilized world.

Our large purchases permit our buying diamonds directly from the larger cutters of the world in original lots, thereby saving the wholesaler's and jobber's profits.

We are diamond specialists, and our diamonds are graded and classed with exacting care until each one has its actual value, and its value is guaranteed.

Every solitaire diamond we sell is with the understanding that we will exchange it whenever desired and allow full purchase price together with any meantime advance in value, as part payment on larger diamonds.

We will cheerfully buy back any solitaire diamond at its full cash price, less 10 per cent, if returned within one year of purchase.

Our liberal methods of business sometimes force others to consent to similar terms and to adopt our methods, but have you ever tried to cash a piece of goods?

Our reputation for fair and progressive dealing is excelled by no other diamond house. We live up to our reputation—not up to it—and stand firm on our values.

the peach industry, which has already grown to great proportions throughout the State, is being rapidly developed. Crisp, smooth and the immediate selection of this time of the year. The local nurseries make a specialty of growing peach trees to meet the demand.

One of the most striking instances of the development of the industry in this county is the method of grafting peach trees in hickory. This method is being extensively practiced by the pe-state. When a few years the grafted will begin bearing and there will be a large crop of fruit. The grafts are made in the month of May. After three years Messrs. Byrner and Smith will have a large crop of fruit of fine nuts, nothing that some returns.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB INFORMED IN FIVE

On Friday night there was a meeting at Buckalew & Elliott's wooded land at Daphne, a miles west of the town. The growth of young hickory trees, which have the work of grafting these young trees with the pecan trees and will extend it over the entire area, is the work of grafting. They will also apply this grafting to the work of grafting other countries, becoming two of the holidays in Italy.

Chief of Scotland Yard. By the title of the book, it is not surprising that Hanaheuser still seems to have plunged into the detective business. He is a detective, and even Romance is only found in the title. The author has succeeded in doing a good detective story, for he has, in the person of the Chief of Scotland Yard, a man with broad human sympathies. This is a life and adventures of the remarkable detective genius, The Man of the Hour, who has been the subject of popular literature. The Vanishing Crackman, illustrated by the author, is a story of local transportation facilities.

LOWRY FRUIT CO. MOVES APRIL FIRST

Rapidly Growing Produce Firm Acquires New and Larger Quarters Near the Railroad.

The Lowry Fruit and Produce company, who commenced the wholesale and commission fruit and produce business in February, 1914, at 41 South Broad street, and which building they have occupied since, will move April 1 to 58 and 57 East Alabama street. The main floor of their new quarters contains 6,000 square feet, with a storage capacity for 20 cars; and with a cold storage basement, which is cool and moisture-proof, containing 100 feet and will store approximately 50 cars. The building is well adapted for storing potatoes, cabbage, turnips, etc., which require a cool dry place. The main floor will be used for sales room, offices and display room for seasonal fruits, vegetables, poultry, etc.

"In 1910 we opened up at 41 South Broad," says Mr. Lowry, "with no customers—with but little cash and practically no experience. We invested a few dollars at the beginning in postage, writing to a few shippers to get them to look forward to the coming season. We had the express wagons—much more times than otherwise they passed us by without a letter or a package; but we determined to stick it out as long as we had a penny or had a friend to back us; so we persisted, plugging and hustling, until we passed the crisis and have from time to time increased our business to its present stage.

"We are now handling car lots of sweet and Irish potatoes, oranges, grapefruit, apples, onions and turnips; and will soon handle tomatoes and other Florida vegetables in car lots. Quantities of strawberries, beans, tomatoes, celery, lettuce, eggplants, carrots, beets, peppers, and sweet and sour apples now moving to us from Florida by express, but on account of recent cold snaps and higher prices prevailing in eastern markets, the movement has not been as free as we would like to see it. However, we anticipate heavier receipts from now on, and trust to have plenty to supply all our customers.

"Sweet potatoes and onions are about the hardest we have ever known. However, we have arranged to keep our customers supplied with these by contracting several cars of Delaware improved yams, which we keep on hand continually. We will soon have Texas Bermuda onions, which will relieve the scarcity to a certain extent.

"Borlough case seed will be the choicest ever recorded this season, prices having advanced 15 to 20 cents per bushel during the past week, and from all accounts, it will be a problem to supply the demand at any price. We have bought two cars to the extent, but have orders booked for all our poultry and eggs are again becoming scarce, and in consequence the market has advanced 10 to 15 cents. A little warm weather will have the tendency to relieve this situation. We handle, besides, poultry, eggs and butter.

NOTES OF THE CITY SALESMEN

The C. S. A. is working smoothly in the hands of the new management. We are glad to see the members taking a more active interest in the association.

Brother W. T. Daniel, with F. E. Block company, was present today. J. S. Everett and J. C. Chandler are in regular attendance again, and we are always glad to see them.

J. C. Harrison and F. E. Kibler are regulars. How proud we would be to have them all at home.

We regret very much to learn of the death of Mr. Holt. Brother Holt was our sincerest sympathy in his sorrow.

The good wife of Brother C. E. Regan, who died at home. We trust she will soon be on the road to recovery.

The hundreds of friends of Brother Regan, who are so anxious to help him, are improving at Hot Springs. It is hoped Brother Regan will soon be back home to once more take up his work.

Brother M. M. Anderson is a regular attendant and takes an active and useful interest in the work of the association.

It was the intention of the finance committee to make a trip looking to the selection of a place for our summer excursion, but on account of the death of Mr. Holt, the trip has been postponed for a few days.

It won't be long now until the secretary will be calling the roll at old Pine and Leon, and most of the boys will be answering there.

The C. S. A. boys are all good fans, and they show their enthusiasm for the game interfere with business.

We hope to see a good attendance at the meeting next Saturday.

Some Things Salesmen Should Know.

That his employer's business is his success.

That his advancement depends entirely upon his own individual effort.

That success is never attained without a sacrifice.

That he will never get something for nothing.

That he should never be ashamed to do for his employer what he would have another do for him.

That he is not paid merely for his presence, but for his work—and is judged accordingly.

IS IT IMPOSSIBLE TO PLAY SQUARE GAME?

A dilemma—With the pure fabric and labeling little pending in the clothing manufacture, finds himself the victim of conflicting symptoms. It is at such a time that a dilemma that would seem to defy solution, which has all the earmarks of three-card monte—wherever he plays he loses. Here's what he's up against, as it was pointed out by a man familiar with the subject, yesterday.

The fabric sale is known to be one of the most difficult in the business, said this man. "If the pure fabric bill, including the one which is sold to the manufacturer to label his product, becomes law, the manufacturer would want to risk his reputation by having his garments sold at one of these sales. On the other hand, no manufacturer wants to let the retailers know, just times when, owing to the accumulation of stock, he is able to offer one a better price than another."

BE A GOOD BUYER BY KNOWING TASTES OF YOUR TRADE

Here is the advice of a successful retailer: "More small business ventures come to grief because their owners overstock merchandise that does not sell quickly than for any other reason. Let me show you why small merchants, as well as large, should buy often and in small lots. Take a slow selling article that wholesaler, for example, at $9 a dozen, or 15 cents each. Suppose that buying this article single means that it costs 18 cents. The 18 cents on the dozen purchase looks like the loss. Suppose, however, that it takes six months to sell the twelve articles at a profit of 25 per cent. This means that the 18 spent earns $15.50 in six months. Suppose, on the other hand, that one article had been bought at 75 cents. Had been sold at the same profit, and the remaining 11.25 had been put into more active merchandise. It is not unusual in this business to turn stock over four times in six months on certain goods. This $12.50 in stock, turned four times with a 25 per cent profit would mean that the merchant would take in about $47 with a 25 investment, instead of $15.50 as on the dozen purchase.

The Master Salesman. Successful salesmanship requires training or the application of yourself to the selling side of merchandising, in order to concentrate yourself to the subject by constant persistence, in an untiring, never-ending attitude.

Indifference in veracity develops a doubtful accomplishment, and it is too often the cause and cause of failure on the part of many a man in life by not having a single plan and seeing it to the end.

Genius is but the doing of a thing that is done by others until sufficient power is developed in hand or brain to do it alone.

A successful salesman must be master of a number of special cardinal points. Intuition, judgment, common sense, aggressiveness, ability, nerve, and tact are the qualities that make a big-hearted, broad-minded gentleman.

Weather Furnishes Good Old Alibis

Saturday's Game Called Off Also; Naps Here Later

Fans Disappointed at Not Seeing the Heavy Hitting Lajoie and Jackson in Action Once More.

By Dick Jemison.

Managers Smith and Birmingham were again forced to cancel the scheduled game between the Naps and Crackers, making two postponements in three attempts to play. Friday's game also being called off by reason of the cold weather.

To play in the brand of weather offered yesterday would have almost been suicidal. The members of both teams would probably have grabbed their coats and hats and run for the door, and the game would have been a work-out.

The fans, too, no one but an absolute baseball bug would have gone to the park to see a game in such weather as prevailed Friday and Saturday.

Fans Disappointed.—The fans were as disappointed as the players. They wanted to see Jackson and Lajoie in action, and the majority of the crowd that would have been present would have been disappointed.

The Naps will be back again at a later date. They will play the Crackers on April 1 and 2, weather permitting. The Naps have been running into the toughest brand of weather of any of the teams in training and are any of the others.

Holland Due Today.—Harry Holland, former Cracker and Tech star, who has been turned back to the Crackers' Manager, Harry Griffith, is due to arrive in Atlanta today.

Some of the games during the season as a shortstop instead of at third, and he is expected to play at shortstop.

It is an ill wind that blows no good and no evil. The Naps have been kept from the Crackers, and the Crackers have been kept from the Naps.

Our Live Hound.—We have a real live hound at Rivington Island in going to be the regular shortstop of the Crackers. This hound will not down and a little nip and bark.

Bland has written that he is not going to be in the lineup with the Crackers. He is in the lineup with the Crackers.

FIVE OF BILLY'S CANDIDATES IN ACTION

Five of the players who are trying for positions on the 1914 Crackers. On the extreme left Joe Dunn is shown going after a high foul during one of the practice games. Next to Dunn is Elmer Lawrence, the leading writer of the Appalachean league, feeding up one of his slow balls in the game against Louisville. In the center is First Baseman Eible, snapped just after he has laced out a timely single. Key Perryman, the former Emory college star, is next to Eible. On the extreme right is Rube Kissingner, the veteran right-hander from Memphis, wearing one of his Sunny Jans.

Passing of the Spitball Has Increased Hitting

By Billy Evans.

A few years back there appeared to be a constant demand for more hitting in baseball. Fans and critics both wanted the superiority of the pitcher over the batter.

The bride was beautifully dressed in a gown of white silk with blue and white to match. After the ceremony an elaborate lunch was served. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. The Suit and Millinery Buyers Are Back From New York With a Lavish Assortment of Styles That Are in Full Bloom for Easter —Wondrous nets and laces! Surely the work of fairy fingers, you will say. Filmy and lissom as gossamer, they fairly float about the garments they adorn. Soft in texture, buoyant as thistle down, they can be draped, puffed or pleated as fashion demands.

Novelty Nets & Laces

That Add Just the Needed Touch of Color Or Grace to Make One's Gown a Success

—Nets are in an unrivaled array of beauty. Some are self-embroidered in white or cream; others have borders "roses and violets blue" still others show just a sprig of green or a dainty rosebud. Margo laces are embroidered in colors that would tax the skill of an artist to reproduce. There are ruffings, and net top laces, and embroidered nets—with inspiration in every yard. 75c to $7.50.

$1 to $2 Embroideries 59c

—Two to four yards of embroidery flouncings for the usual price of one yard is a B-A-R-G-A-I-N. The designs, moreover, are in the fashionable flat Venice, Baby Irish and Carrickmacross, while the materials are in the approved needle, voile and soft mulls; 27 and 45 inches wide; choice 59c.

$1.75 Embroidered Crêpes 98c

—Women will wax enthusiastic over this special. The soft crinkled crepe alone sells in most white goods stores at 75c to $1.00 a yard; embroidered the price is always $1.50 or $1.75. Dainty dots, buds or sprays are spaced over the white crepe. All white or coral, rose, pink, navy, blue, etc., 40 inches wide. Glorious possibilities for fresh, springlike blouses and gowns.

Linen Laces at Half-Price

Don't Bathe Baby In a Cold Room

SPRING is treacherous. Days are often cold and damp. One doesn't feel like starting a fire; yet one is uncomfortable. Baby is especially so. What's to be done? A great many styles in, but not many of each. There are Empire gowns with busts entirely of lace or embroidery; round neck gowns with embroidered fronts; square neck gowns trimmed with medallions and ribbons. Simple crepe gowns in pink, white or blue, lace trimmed and with pocket at side. Many other gowns of nainsook lace, embroidery and ribbon trimmed. Choice 87 cents.

Linen Table Cloths

Lose a Third of Their Price Because They Need a Tubbing

—Moravian Damask is about the finest linen known. By reason of its fine yarns, the care exercised in weaving and bleaching, Moravian Damask not only outwears other linens, but it always retains its rich finish, even after months of the hardest tubbing. These Moravian Damask scalloped cloths for round tables are underpriced solely because they have become slightly soiled in display. Sooner than over a hundred cloths in all, with choice of many designs.

$5 Cloths, 48 inches, $2.98. $6 Cloths, 54 inches, $3.69. $7 Cloths, 60 inches, $4.50. $10 Cloths, 72 inches, $6.98.

$2.50 Embroidered Linen Pillow Cases $1.88

—An importer's reserve stock of fine linen pillow cases, handsomely embroidered in spray and wreath designs, with space for monogram. Some are scalloped; others are hemstitched. Actual values are $2.25, $2.50 and $3 a pair.

EASY $50,000 TO $100,000 PROFIT
THIS DEMANDS YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION. IS THE BIGGEST BARGAIN EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

10,080 ACRES of original long-leaf yellow pine saw timber land "in fee." Rich, high and dry ridge land, suitable for farming, trucking, and will produce oranges, watermelons, cantaloupes, pecans, peanuts, tomatoes, or any other crop suitable to the climate. Ten roads running through the property. Has beautiful clear water river that stays in its banks, besides branches, springs and two artesian wells.

8,000 ACRES ORIGINAL TIMBER; 2,000 acres cut-over timber. POSIBLY never saw 50 acres of mastad land on the entire tract, and that is only spoken of as being in the beds of river and branches, and NOT ON THE BANKS.

ONE MILE, or more, of beautiful bay frontage in oak grove and part of it in a town.

IMPROVEMENTS

40 DWELLINGS, one to five rooms, each in fair condition; church, stores, warehouses.

saw mill, stave mill, shingle mill, boilers, belts, water tanks, blacksmith shop, etc., all in fair condition. Three different towns on, and a part of, the property, besides two towns adjoining, with telephone connections to Holly. Houses built all along the beach to Pensacola. Freight and passenger boat line to and from Pensacola.

THE CLIMATE IS IDEAL AND HEALTHY

WHAT YOU CAN DO

YOU CAN CLEAR $80,000 ABOVE EXPENSES in cutting the timber, which WILL SHOW 60% HEART.

THE LAND would be cheap, without a stick of timber on it, at $7.00 per acre. SOME OF IT COST THE OWNERS $9 PER ACRE.

LISTEN

LISTEN

YOU CAN'T BUY land like this anywhere at $10 PER ACRE. Land 20 miles further away from this, on the river, is selling in small tracts at $15 to $25 per acre.

THE REASON

THE OWNERS WISH to divide an estate and owing to some of the heirs wanting immediate cash have put a price of only $5

PER ACRE, including all improvements, timber rights, etc.

TERMS

$15,000 CASH, balance 1, 2, 3 years at 7%.

IN CONCLUSION

MR. MAN—If you haven't enough money of your own to handle this proposition, get some of your friends with you.

LOOK

AFTER THE FIRST payment you won't ever have to pay another dollar, as the property will, by means of the timber, pay for the entire proposition and leave you THE LAND and a HANDSOME PROFIT. You could cut the timber into cross-ties and pay for the entire tract.

AS A STARTER

I'LL PUT IN $2,000 MYSELF—That's the confidence I have in it. The titles are perfect. NOW GET BUSY.

How an Express Company
Is Fortifying Against Parcel Post Competition, Carrying Country Produce at Cheap Rates.

New York, March 21.—(Special.)—In

An official statement issued last Wednesday, directors of the United States Postal Service said that they had decided to retire from business because of the parcel post competition and because of the reduction in the parcel post rate by the state commerce commission. The stockholders of the United States company began their point advance on "rumor" of the fact that the United States made up its mind that the incident was a forceful illustration of the discontent of the nation felt by the government's activities. Wall Street's claim that the development in the United States company are the independent of the government is not true. In any event there is no express company that is not going to be frightened out of business by the parcel post rate.

"We are going to live," C. W. Stockton, general counsel of Wells-Fargo, declared this week in discussing the express company situation. When Wells-Fargo's western-bred general counsel is very much in earnest, he has two forceful ways of punctuating his remarks. "We have had a hard fight," he said with characteristic side-jerk of head, ading as his cane guided by both hands, palms down, jabbed the floor between his feet: "But we are talking about that. We have made out the state of affairs. We are going to live despite the parcel post and the 16 percent reduction in rates."

Only for an instant when reference was made to the lost fight was there the slightest display of bitterness. He is also an optimist and he believes, heart and soul, in the plans which night and day for the past year and a half he and his associates have been working on. Those plans call for a new crop of upland cotton, stimulate production, increase profits to the farmer and at the same time lower the cost of living to the Reconstructed Its Staff.

Some two years ago Wells Fargo shareholders suddenly realized that their business was in need of a complete readjustment. It was realized that, owing to the methods which all of the companies had been pursuing for years, the public had not only lost confidence in the express business, but it had grown actively antagonistic. After arguing in vain with the head officials, Wells Fargo shareholders decided to reconstruct the executive staff and go as far outside of the business as possible in securing new men. That was a wise decision. Soon after it was made, W. E. Farnsworth began to leave the other, well-known companies behind. B. D. Caldwell, who as William H. Truesdale's right-hand man helped to make the Lackawanna railroad what it is, was selected as president. Once vice president was taken from the Illinois Central, and another from the chairmanship of the official classification committee.

Those three men and Stockton put their heads together to divine plans" for cotton seeds.

REVIEWS OF THE WEEK IN AMERICAN MARKETS

Cotton.

The main sustaining features were the census bureau report on consumption, showing a larger year-to-year movement than in the preceding year, and the fact that the average price of the same month last year, the smaller total ginning for the season than expected, from the same bureau, and the unseasonably cold temperatures over the belt, particularly in the south, where the normal report was that cotton planting was under way.

the continued full movement and the in-

In the spot department, prices gained five-sixteenths of a cent, middling closing at 13.2-1/2, against 12 1/2 last week and 2-1/4 this week last year. Hales on the spot amounted to 8,123 bales, against 18,058 and 2,155 this week last year;
sales to arrive, amounted to 4,666 bales.
